

The image features a white background with numerous black ink splatters and blotches of varying sizes and shapes, primarily concentrated in the upper half. The splatters have irregular, feathered edges, suggesting liquid ink. In the lower half, there are several small, isolated black dots and a few faint, thin lines.

A Sense of Time and Place

For the graduating class of 2001, images of the Pratt community in 1887 are nearly unrecognizable. At that time Pratt's Main Building sat amidst many commercial and residential properties on Ryerson Street. Throughout the course of over one hundred years, the Institute grew dramatically to become present-day Pratt, a vast twenty-five-acre campus comprised of more than twenty buildings and a welcoming lawn.

The following timeline presents different aspects of the Pratt campus through time, giving a sense of how each generation of Pratt students saw the Institute. We hope these images will offer the 2001 graduating class an insight into Pratt's history and their place within it.

Charles Pratt founded Pratt Institute in 1887

Main Building completed in 1887

East Building completed in 1887

Machinery Building added in 1914

Thrift Hall was added as a savings bank for students in 1917

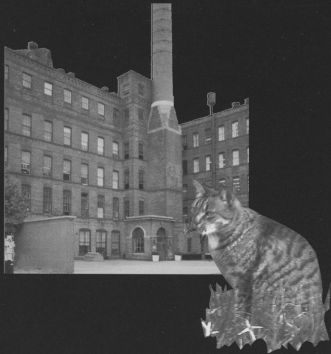

The famous Pratt Cannon

Higgins Hall, originally a private school, was added to Pratt in the 1960s

The Activities Resource Center was completed in 1975

One of the many Pratt cats

Stabile Residence Hall completed in 2000

The Engines in East Building

Pratt Security Booth
Miniature Sculpture
added in 2001

With your newly minted degrees, you have just become Pratt's newest ambassadors in the broader world. The generations of graduates who preceded you paved the way for you and now it is your turn. Do not forget the foundation you received here. Please do your part in whatever paths you pursue. And return to your alma mater whether it is in the virtual arena, hiring another graduate, making a donation, returning to teach, or just visiting the campus. Please keep in touch.

Cheers!

Thomas F. Schutte
President

Dear Graduates:

Pratt Institute is one of the most remarkable creative learning communities in the world, and you and your classmates are a major reason why that is the case. You have given your all to your work here at Pratt - sometimes against great odds - and you have succeeded. We are enormously proud of you, and proud of your families who supported you through out your education. Most of all we wish you well as you leave the campus, and we urge you to stay in touch with our community, which will be the poorer for your absence.

Sincerely,
John Gordon
Provost

Dear Class of 2001:

I had the honor to welcome you when you came here as new members of the Pratt community. As a member of the 2001 Commencement Platform party, I had the pleasure of watching you walk across the stage to receive your Pratt Degree. Now I have the chance to tell you how wonderful you are, to let you know how proud I am of you, and to wish you good luck!

Dr. Kathleen M. Rice
